Manhasset Business Centennial and Street Fair

When: Saturday, October 3, 1998-10 A.M. to 4 P.M.
Rain Date: Sunday, October 4, 1998

Where: Plandome Road, Manhasset, Long Island, NY
(Main Street USA)

Admission: Free

Occasion: The Manhasset Centennial and Street Fair. The Manhasset business district came into being when the first train roared across the trestle in 1898. The famed movie "Perils of Pauline" used the trestle for the making of the film.

Events: Parade, music, fun park, carriage rides, food, entertainment, art sale, merchant sales, demonstrations, and lots of fun for all!

Manhasset was founded in 1680. Today, we have approximately 22,000 residents enjoying what our forefathers started for us. We have much to be thankful for and we have much to be proud of, including an acclaimed school system, with a high school recently rated number seven.

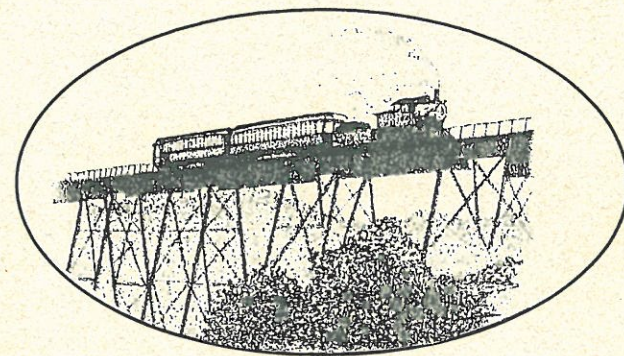

So, let's celebrate! What a great way to spend the day with your family.

Parking: Regulations on side streets are suspended for the day. Free parking is available at the High School, Town Hall, Long Island Railroad and all Park District lots.

Raffle Tickets: Manhasset Chamber of Commerce raffle tickets—featuring fabulous prizes including a European vacation provided by Sabena Airlines—available at many locations throughout Manhasset. Proceeds will benefit the Manhasset Chamber for the beautification of your home town.
